World Masters Championship

Oslo, Norway

The 23rd World Masters Championship was held in Oslo, Norway, at the Åsbygden Skøytebanegard (Westcoast Ski Club). June 25 to July 4, 1994, consisted of 56 teams from 29 nations, demonstrating the broad family nature of the World Championships. The ages of the participants ranged from the 45-year minimum to a high of 75-year limit. Norway took the top position for the first time in the history of the event.

The event was a perfect example of SCIBA's vision, "Skiing Safety, Sports Fun," as the skiing was competitive and provided opportunities for everyone. The Masters, certainly, must understand SCIBA's aim to create a level of skiing that is accessible to all ages.
